Public meeting for Quincy / Gun Club Intersection Final Design Sept. 14 Residents encouraged to review and provide feedback of proposed design layout

LITTLETON, CO --- Arapahoe County, along with the City of Aurora, is hosting a public open house for citizens to review and learn about the Quincy Avenue / Gun Club Road Partial Continuous Flow Intersection currently under design.

During the morning and evening rush hour, the Quincy Avenue / Gun Club Road intersection does not operate at an acceptable level, causing traffic delays. Arapahoe County and the City of Aurora, in conjunction with the Southeast Metro Stormwater Authority, are developing a final design to help facilitate the short and long-term anticipated traffic projections at the intersection.

A Partial Continuous Flow Intersection has been proposed to help facilitate the long-term needs at the intersection.

A PCFI is designed to move the left-turn crossover movements away from the intersection through a coordinated traffic signal system; which allows for improved efficiency and operation at the intersection.

As this will be the first time this intersection will be used in the Denver Metro area, the public is encouraged to attend and learn about the intersection through simulations and other displays. Regional trail system displays and water quality ponds/ wetlands and wildlife habitat areas proposed within the project also will be presented.

The public open house is 4 – 6:30 p.m., Sept. 14 in the Arapahoe County Fairgrounds Exhibition Hall, 25690 E. Quincy Avenue, Aurora, 80016. Interested parties can view displays, learn more about the project and get questions answered by city and county representatives.

Graphic displays from the meeting also will be displayed on the project website after the Public Meeting.
