Public presentation for proposed Rural Transportation Impact Fee Oct. 19 Eastern county residents, land owners, builders and developers encouraged to learn more

LITTLETON, CO --- Arapahoe County continues to grow and it is not expected to slow down in coming years. Arapahoe County Public Works and Development is proposing a one-time rural transportation impact fee to be best prepared to handle additional development.

The proposed fee would be a one-time payment on new development only to help offset the impacts on roadway infrastructure that occur with development. The fee would be for new development located in unincorporated Arapahoe County east of Gun Club Road. If approved, the fee would be collected at time of building permit issuance on residential, commercial, industrial and office buildings. The fee would be used to pay for the impact portion of capital improvements on critical identified roadways within eastern Arapahoe County.

Land owners, residents, builders and developers are encouraged to learn about the proposed fee at a public presentation 6 – 7:30 p.m., Oct. 19 at the Arapahoe County Fairgrounds, Windmill Rooms, 25690 E. Quincy Ave., Aurora, 80016. There will be a brief presentation from Transportation Division Manager Bryan Weimer, followed by a question and answer session.
